PROJECTS

- Online Auction Platform (AuctionPal)
In this group project, I implemented an admin notification system for AuctionPal, allowing administrators to send personalized notifications, including images, directly to users' notification sections on the website. Additionally, I integrated email functionality to ensure timely updates were delivered to users' inboxes, significantly enhancing communication efficiency and user satisfaction on the platform.

● Online Movie Streaming Platform (Flickster)

At Flickster, I developed the customer section, enabling seamless creation, updating, and deletion of profiles. This streamlined content management for creators and optimized the user interface, enhancing overall usability and efficiency. My work addressed key challenges, making Flickster more refined and user-friendly for both creators and users.
